

Azudora

He was over Battle Level 60 when he fought with the Hero Killer.

His strength was top class among the Four Heavenly Kings for generations.

Possesses a powerful ability called the "Dragon's Claw".

However, since his fengang heart, he only uses it at parties.

Likes alcohol (he's not particularly exotic, but he gets drunk easily).

Perhaps it's because he organised Vermis during work...

Even while he's absorbed in conversations, he can securely maintain a barrier and also attack with his roots.

Can multitask.

Alicia

She has been exterminating monsters and training for three years, and she wandered all around the world

She eventually joined a mercenary group that she deemed suitable

He panicked ~~passed~~ away when she was about 11 years old.

Her archery accuracy is top class within the Hamsen Kingdom

Her swordsmanship is better than Ed's and Zelle's

Has no experience with love!

"I'll live with my sword forever!"

And no interest in it

Her favourite food is "Helck's cuisine".

Her favourite drink is the "black tea that Helck makes her".

Her favourite moment is "when she is together with Helck".

Edil

Wika often mistaken
as a girl when he was small.

3 Years Old

Takes
after his mother.

The
youngest of three.

The
son of a feudal lord
who lived
close to the national border.

He often sees
his older brothers
in Helck because of his burly body
and gentle smile.

His parents
passed
away when he was very little.

The two older brothers he loved were killed in action
when Edil
was 14.

For some reason,
swordsmanship
diminishes
if it is cut.

The horns
covering his left eye is a hairstyle that's been passed
down for generations.

Great Great Grandfather

If pressed to describe, he likes someone who
doesn't mind
him speaking
truthfully
and is powerful.

Doesn't
really have a specific
type of woman
he likes.

Hyura

After graduating from the academy, she visited many Demon King castles while exterminating monsters in order to become powerful.

Born inside Demon King Gwyn's castle academy in the Empire's southern area.

She learned she wasn't adequate, so she left and went on a long journey to train.

She was on the verge of death ten times during the Night Protection War at the North.

Has a good impression towards people who treat her as a woman.

Bad in front of cameras.

Hates losing.

Strict on herself and on others.

However, even if they're weak, she doesn't hate a man who tries their best.

Likes hotties regardless of race, but hates weak men.
